Information Items:

1. Presentation by New Student Government Association President regarding the Priorities of the New Administration, University of Houston – BOR-2

   Chair Ray called Mr. Michael Harding, President of the Student Government Association at the University of Houston to present this item to the board.

   Mr. Michael Harding, as the new Student Government Association (SGA) President and student body representative, stated that he and Craig Premjee, Vice President of SGA, were elected because they wanted to provide a Tier One experience for a diverse student body. They plan to do this by focusing on improving graduation and retention rates, as well as by improving the overall student experience here at the University of Houston. An executive agenda was distributed to the board which outlined the SGA’s guiding principles and initiatives. Listed below are two initiatives Mr. Harding addressed:

- To bring free tutoring programs offered on campus to the various residence halls; hopefully to act as a selling point for living on campus, but more importantly, to help assist students achieving college success; and
- To upgrade some of the services offered on campus by utilizing instant messaging and skype chatting so they can effectively and efficiently communicate with students in a way that is familiar to them and is concurrent with the progression of today’s technology.

A complete copy of Mr. Harding’s presentation has been filed in the board office. This item was for information only and required no board action.

2. Presentation of Budget Reductions: General Principles and Impact – University of Houston, BOR-3

Dr. Carl Carlucci, Executive Vice Chancellor for Administration and Finance and Dr. John Antel, Senior Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and Provost, gave presentations of the University of Houston System universities’ budget reductions to meet the anticipated reduction of the state’s general revenue appropriations. Each of the UH System university’s plan to adjust their FY2012 budget through increased efficiencies and productivity, reduction of positions, delays in faculty hiring, and increased revenue to cover the loss of appropriated funds was reviewed. Also in the presentation was a review of the general principles that guided the development of these plans, as well as the impact these reductions would have on each of the universities.

Dr. Carlucci emphasized that the information presented to the board were targets only that were developed for reduction plans based on the anticipated reductions in state revenues. State funding is based on a formula which calculates our funding from enrollment noted Dr. Carlucci. Below is a brief summary of Dr. Carlucci’s remarks:

- The budget timeline for the FY2012 budget development beginning September 1, 2011 was outlined;
- The current status of the Appropriations Bill was addressed. The Senate proposed biennial vs. the House proposed biennial was discussed. The total UH System comparison is listed below for reference.

3. Presentation providing an overview of the history, curriculum, and goals of the Honors College at the University of Houston, Item E – BOR-5

Dean of the Honors College, Dr. William Monroe introduced this item. A powerpoint presentation was given which provided an overview on the history, curriculum, and goals of the Honors College, as well as the ways the Honors College collaborates with other academic units to enhance student success and further the University’s Tier One initiative. Below is a brief summary of Dr. Monroe’s remarks:
- Three C’s used to describe the Honors College were Connection, Community and Collaboration.
- The first C is Connection. The Honors College exists to further the undergraduate priorities of the president, the provost, the Board of Regents, and the University as a whole.
- The Honors College is not a separate entity but is connected to virtually every academic and student services department on campus, from the disciplinary colleges and academic departments to the Office of Admissions, the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid, to the Residential Life and Housing.
- The Honors College mission is entirely dependent on the good will and support of all of these units.
- The Honors College is also connected to the City of Houston as reflected in their development efforts, their internships, and even their honors courses, which can include volunteer work and visits to the Alley Theatre, Houston Grand Opera, the MFA, the Menil, etc., not to mention baseball games and soccer matches that serve as community building activities.
- The second C is community. The Honors College in many ways is a family. Many of their activities, academic and extracurricular, reflect a sense of participation and belonging.
- The third C is collaboration. The Honors College faculty and staff collaborate with faculty and staff across the University to recruit, retain, educate, and graduate a growing cohort of academically talented, high-achieving students.

Many members of the Honors College’s faculty and staff were present at the meeting and introduced to the board.
A complete copy of Dr. Monroe’s powerpoint presentation has been filed in the Board office. This item was for information only and required no board action.

Chair Ray recessed the meeting at 2:50 p.m. for a 10-minute break. The meeting reconvened at 3:00 p.m. and Chair Ray moved to the previous item that had been taken out of order on the agenda, Item D.

4. Presentation regarding Faculty Senate Alignment with the University of Houston’s Strategic Mission – University of Houston, Item D - BOR-4.

Dr. Monica McHenry, Faculty Senate President for the University of Houston, provided a presentation concerning Faculty Senate alignment with the University of Houston’s Strategic Mission. Below is a summary of Dr. McHenry’s remarks:

- On April 23, 2011, the Faculty Senate had completed a reorganization that was initially recommended approximately 15 years ago. The reason for moving forward with this initiative was to align the Faculty Senate with the strategic initiatives of the University, specifically those of excellence in teaching and research.

- One major change in the reorganization was the inclusion of instructional, clinical, and research faculty into the senate. In the past, only traditional, tenure-track faculty and librarians were represented. The Faculty Senate believes that the inclusion of all full-time faculty on campus is critical to achieving their goals of research and teaching excellence. A unified effort both in the classroom and the laboratory would be required to achieve these goals.

- The Faculty Senate’s committee structure and responsibilities have been changed since the Research Council and Undergraduate Council have been incorporated into the Faculty Senate.

- Representatives to the new Research and Scholarship Committee will be elected by members of their college. Previously, Research Council members were appointed by the Vice President for Research. The Faculty Senate believes that by electing these members ensures they will represent the views of their college and forward a research agenda that is faculty-driven and more importantly, one in which the faculty are personally invested.

- Representatives to the new Undergraduate Council will be elected as well. One of the key charges for this committee will be the formation of a Student Success Subcommittee which will encompass not only members of the Undergraduate Committee, but representatives from the Center for Teaching Excellence, students and key administrators.

- The Faculty Affairs Committee will stay. This committee currently focuses on the critical issues of faculty workload as well as post-tenure review procedures.

- The Budget and Facilities Committee also remains and will continue to play an active role in the university’s budgeting process, providing input with regard to priorities and efficiencies wherever possible.

- A new committee has been developed, Community and Government Relations. This committee will serve as the Faculty Senate liaison to the university community, external communities, and government entities; and is also charged with developing the Scholarship and Community Conference, scheduled for April 2012.

- The Faculty Governance Committee is charged with making sure that all changes in the constitution are implemented as smoothly as possible and they are playing a major role in making this happen.
• The Faculty Senate believes the new committee structure and the inclusion of a broader spectrum of faculty will enable the senate to contribute more effectively to achieving the university’s goals.

• The issue of guns on campus was addressed. The Faculty Senate is working with the emergency management team, the department of psychology, and campus counseling services to find the best strategies to help everyone feel, and stay safe on campus. The Faculty Senate believes an educational approach designed to train people to de-fuse potentially volatile situations may be useful. The training would be available to faculty, students, and staff with the goals of preventing the escalation of any conflict and eliminating the temptation to resort to weapons.

• During the general uncertainty of the Texas budget, combined with the certainty that the cuts will have a potentially devastating effect on the educational mission, the Faculty Senate remain committed to doing everything possible to continue to pursue their Tier One research and teaching missions.

Chancellor’s Report

Chancellor Renu Khator presented a UH System-wide report and below is a brief summary of Dr. Khator’s remarks:

University of Houston System Achievements

• 6,634 students will graduate from the four UH System universities this Spring:
  The breakdown is as follows:
  • UH – 2,371 bachelor’s, 954 master’s, 108 doctoral, 452 professional, 3,885 total
  • UHCL – 556 bachelor’s, 540 master’s, 5 doctoral, 1,101 total
  • UHD – 1,140 bachelor’s, 15 master’s, 1,155 total
  • UHV – 288 bachelor’s, 205 master’s, 493 total
• Dr. Khator thanked the regents for participating in all the commencement ceremonies and bringing greetings on behalf of the Board.
• Dr. Khator thanked the regents for the many trips to Austin they had made during the Legislative session to make our case for funding, even as the state faces dramatic revenue shortfalls. Three items were addressed:
  • The House and Senate had passed their version of the Appropriations Bill. The House version cuts funding to the UH System by $97 million (19%) for the FY2012-2013 biennium, while the Senate version cuts $80.9 million (16%).
  • Several options are being considered for the disbursement of the National Research University Fund (NRUF) monies, with variables such as amount of money to be disbursed among one, two, or three qualifying universities.
  • The Texas Grants program is going to be drastically cut. The House has included funding for Texas Grants at $365.7 million in its version of the Appropriations Bill which covers renewals, but not new enrollees. The Senate version of the Appropriations Bill includes funding of $559.5 million - $193.8 million over the renewal amount - to bring funding to 90% of the FY2010-2011 biennium amounts.
